6.3.1 The institution has effective welfare measures for teaching and non-teaching staff and avenues for career development/ progression

Response:

Our institution has developed a great workplace culture that values mutual respect, fostering an environment that is supportive of both academic and personal development. We think that as the personnel expands, so does the institution.

All the recruited academic staff members are qualified and capable of instructing in all academic disciplines. The long tenure of senior faculty at the college indicates the management's effectiveness in employing employees and the amenities made available to them.

For all the academic activities at various levels, the management and Principal encourages and inspires the teaching staff to advance their careers by allowing them to take part in conferences, symposia, workshops, training sessions, work related research activities, industrial tours etc by giving duty leave along with minimum travelling allowances and registration fee.
