4.2.1. Library automation using Integrated Library Management System (ILMS), subscription to e-resources including provision of links to OER repositories, amount spent on purchase of books, journals and usage of library

Response:

KVSRSCOPS has a central library which acts as a hub for academic information and services. Students can come to read, consult, and borrow books and reference resources. The KVSRSCOPS strives to maintain a clean, peaceful and orderly environment both inside and outside the library area.

The library is automated using New Gen Lib (New Generation in Library Automation and Networking) (version 3.0.4 carbon release 3) software, developed by verus Solutions Private Limited Hyderabad. It combines powerful third-party libraries with free open source software. The software enables administrators to set up parameters specific to the library in various functional modules viz., acquisition, technical processing, circulation, serials management, web OPAC (on-line public access catalogue), administration and other utilities.

It consists of double decker iron racks with books arranged subject wise and number wise. Display boards are also arranged to guide the users. At present there are a total 9297 volumes with 2577 titles including reference books, Text books, Journals, and Magazines. It is well equipped with all modern facilities including e-resources. It has evolved into a full-fledged Digital Library equipped with necessary equipment in order to provide various digital library services.

In addition, the library offers the below mentioned services to enhance the learning facilities to students, faculty and researchers.
